THE MISSNER GROUP COMPLETES NEW LOCATION FOR ILLINOIS BONE & JOINT INSTITUTE IN LAKE BLUFF AND CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

Expansion Also Completed at Bannockburn, Illinois Location

(Des Plaines, Illinois) – The Missner Group is pleased to announce that the firm has completed renovations in Lake Bluff and Chicago, Illinois, bringing two new locations for the Illinois Bone & Joint Institute (IBJI) to the Chicago area. The construction firm has also completed an expansion of an existing IBJI facility in Bannockburn, Illinois this summer.

The Missner Group was selected by IBJI to construct a new facility in Lake Bluff, Illinois located at 101 Waukegan Road. The 6,000 square foot project featured the build-out of both physical therapy and clinic space. The Lake Bluff facility for IBJI now features a renovated reception area and waiting room, private examination rooms and 2,800 square feet of space for physical therapy.

Likewise, The Missner Group constructed a new space for IBJI at 111 N. Canal Street in Chicago, Illinois. The renovation included the addition of a 2,900 square foot physical therapy space, a private physical therapy consultation suite and a new reception and waiting lounge.

“The Missner Group has assisted us in constructing numerous locations throughout the Chicagoland area,” said Andre Blom of IBJI. “The work is completed professionally and at the highest levels of quality, reflecting the level of service and care we are committed to bringing to our patients and staff in each community.”

Additionally, The Missner Group completed an expansion to an existing IBJI facility located at 2102 Waukegan Road in Bannockburn, Illinois. This project featured the addition of a 2,000 square foot physical therapy space, as well as upgrades throughout the facility. Construction included finishes consistent with the high-quality and modern comfort for which IBJI has become renowned.

“We are pleased to have completed an additional three projects on behalf of IBJI this summer,” said Heath Yarger, senior project manager for The Missner Group. “IBJI is committed to providing patients with high-standards of care and these expansions and renovations have modernized the facilities to provide an environment that will better serve the local community and patients. We look forward to continuing to assist IBJI with their growth throughout the Chicagoland region.”

Yarger was the senior project manager for The Missner Group and Steve Bulger served as the project superintendent. Stephen Rankin & Associates provided the architectural services.

A leader in orthopedic care in the Chicago metropolitan area with more than 20 locations, IBJI specializes in the diagnosis, treatment and management of injuries and diseases of the musculoskeletal system. The Missner Group has completed numerous projects for IBJI including locations in Chicago, Lincolnwood, Wilmette, Glenview, Bannockburn, Lake Bluff, Morton Grove and Des Plaines, Illinois.
