FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

JUSTIN SEWELL JOINS MISSNER GROUP'S PROPERTY MANAGEMENT DIVISION

(Des Plaines, Illinois) – The Missner Group is pleased to announce that Justin Sewell has joined the firm as an Assistant Property Manager.

“With the recent acquisition of three sizeable office properties, along with our existing portfolio, it was an ideal time to create a new position within the Property Management division,” said Angela Aeschliman, CPM, CCIM and Senior Vice President of Property & Asset Management for The Missner Group. “Justin has experience working with two leading property management associations and brings a unique perspective to the team. He will be a great addition and help to serve our mission and vision as well as those of our clients. I am pleased to welcome him aboard.”

As an Assistant Property Manager, Sewell will provide support to our tenants, owners and partners. He will serve as the main point of contact for tenant and vendor relations, lease administration, and be the conduit for communications to the tenants relating to invoicing. He will additionally assist with all contracts, vendor management, request for proposals on projects, assisting with risk management and general records administration as they relate to the property portfolio. Sewell was previously employed by the Institute of Real Estate Management (IREM), where he served as the Business and Career Services Manager. He has also worked as a Special Project Coordinator for the Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) of Suburban Chicago.

Sewell earned his MBA with a Real Estate concentration from Roosevelt University and a Bachelor of Arts degree from Southern Illinois University. He has also completed numerous continuing education programs including the Real Estate Associate Program (REAP) and the Institute for Organization Management provided by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. He is active within his community and volunteers for the Girls Scouts of America.
